

10-minute ABC Challenge!

The A is for auditorium, that is where we eat our lunch.

The B is for best friends, of which I now have a whole bunch!

The C is for the classical languages we learn to speak and read.

The D is for ...

The E is for English of course, the bestest language of them all!

The F is for ...

The G is for Gymnasium, or Grammar School in the UK.

The H is for ...

The I is for isn't this fun? We're having such a blast!

The J is for ...

The K is for kitchen, with Mr Goudbeek as our chef.

The L is for ...

The M is for music and making theatre on Thursday afternoon.

The N is for ...

The O is for outstanding education, every lesson, every week.

The P is for ...

The Q is for quiz, which is a nice word that teachers use for 'test'.

The R is for ...

The S is for sports and science, 'cause here at Coleanum you don't have to choose!

The T is for ...

The V is for vacation: we have eleven weeks every year.

The W is for ...

The X is for xenial, which means something like welcoming!

The Y is for ...

The Zed, or is it zee? A good question; let me see...

The British, they say zed, but Americans say zee.

I would like to suggest zay, but you should not listen to me.

We have now come to an end of this lovely ABC...

We hope that you've enjoyed this lesson and that you've improved considerably!
